A duck's adventure

Once upon a time, there was a little duck living near a forest with his family. One day, at noon, the determined little duck and mother duck went to the river to catch fish. "Look mom! I've just caught a fish!" little duck said. "Good! Although there are a lot of fish in the forest, don't go inside!" warned the mother duck.

Unfortunately, little duck was not a good listener. While mother duck was bathing, little duck quickly sneaked into the forest without mother duck's notice.

When the duck was walking into the forest, he suddenly saw a black and fierce wolf! The little duck asked, "Who are you?" "I am a wolf." the wolf answered, "And I want to eat you!" "Ah, help!" little duck screamed loudly.

As the wolf's stomach rumbling sound became louder, little duck screamed louder. Suddenly, a lion came up, he said, "The duck is mine, not yours!" The wolf was scared, but the little duck was terrified, too. The lion roared and the wolf ran away.

When the little duck was thinking about what would happen to him after he was eaten by the lion, the lion said, "OK, you can go now." Little duck was confused. "I am the king of this forest, I shouldn't eat my friend's son or my animals." the lion said. "I will take you back home safely.” The little duck said, “Thank you so much, errr...I mean, the Lion King!”

When they got back little duck's home, mother duck was surprised. Mother duck asked, "How long haven't we met each other?" "A few years." lion king said. "Well, come in and eat, Mr. Lion. We'd caught a lot of fish today." said mother duck.

What an exciting day!

A duck's adventure

Once upon a time, there was a little duck living near a forest with his family. One morning, little duck walked along the river with his mom after breakfast. When they took a short break, little duck spotted a road leading deep into a forest and asked his mom, "Mom, can we go into the forest?" Mother duck said, "No, you must never go into the forest!" Little duck promised his mom that he would never go inside the forest.

Later that night after dinner, little duck disobeyed his mom and sneaked out of the house. He said to himself, "I'll just go into the forest for a while and come back out." And so the naughty little duck went into the forest without hesitation.

Minutes later, little duck arrived inside the forest. He discovered different flowers and animals. He walked along the path and saw a big cave. Little duck felt scared and decided to go back to his home. When he turned around, he encountered a fierce-looking wolf. The wolf looked at little duck and licked his mouth, "Yum, I haven't eaten a duck since last month. I will eat you!" Then, the little duck suddenly ran past the wolf quickly. The wolf roared and chased after little duck. Little duck shouted loudly, "Help! Can anyone help me?"

The little duck ran and hid behind a tree and hoped the wolf wouldn't find him. Luckily, the wolf didn't notice the little duck and eventually went away muttering words. The little duck ran all the way to his home, still feeling scared. Once the little duck got home, mother duck asked him where he had been and little duck told his mom everything. Mother duck was outraged hearing that the little duck sneaked into the forest without her permission and scolded him. Little duck promised his mom that he would never ever go into the forest again.

A duck's adventure

Once upon a time, there was a little duck living near a forest with his family. One morning, the little duck was curious about the forest. He asked his mom, "What is in the forest, mom?" His mom said, "Don't go inside! There are a lot of dangerous animals."

But the little duck didn't obey his mother. When his mother was busy doing something, he sneaked inside the forest and said to himself, "What is in the forest?" After a while, the little duck was a little bit tired, he wanted to go back to eat with his mom but he still kept going on his journey in the forest.

And then, the little duck saw something wiggling, he had a feeling that it was something bad, very very bad. He gulped and said, "What are you?" He trembled uncontrollably. The enormous beast said, "Oh! You don't know me? I am the big bad wolf, and I am going to eat you for my breakfast!" It chased after the little duck. The little duck cried, "Help me! Somebody please come and help me!" The wolf outran the little duck.

He knew he couldn't outrun the wolf so he hid in a river on his right. The big bad wolf said, "Oh! Little duck where are you? Come out come out wherever you are!" The wolf caught a glimpse of the little duck. It went to his right and saw him, and said, "I saw you!" It jumped into the river but it didn't know how to swim, so it cried,

"Help!"

The little duck kept swimming, he saw some fish and said, "I know these fish, this river leads to the river where my mom is!" He swam faster, and finally he went home. The mother duck was so worried and asked, "Where did you go?" Little duck said, "Sorry mom.
I went into the forest." Mom hugged him and said, "Don't do that anymore!" Mother forgave the little duck, and they lived happily ever after.

A duck's adventure

Once upon a time, there was a little duck living near a forest with his family. One afternoon, while the little duck and his mother were finding food, the little duck's mom warned him several times not to go in the forest. But the little duck was very curious. It was dawn soon, animals said that wolves wake up at dawn for food.

However, the little duck kept thinking about the forest, so he secretly sneaked out of his house. He followed the path to the forest and asked himself, "What's inside the forest?" He kept walking and he heard some screams! So, he followed the screams and kept walking ahead.

Then, the little duck stopped walking and started to shake in fear. A wolf was there! He didn't know what to do so he screamed, "HELP!" and the wolf said with a scary face, "I WANT TO EAT YOU!" The little duck ran out of the forest in fear.

After that, the little duck kept running until he made it home. The little duck tried to find his parents but they were not home! The big hungry wolf found an axe and decided to chop the door down, the little duck went to find some things to block the door, but the big hungry wolf still got through the door! The little duck had nowhere to go so the big hungry wolf stepped in and was about to eat him.

The big bad hungry wolf stood there and took off his mask. It turned out the wolf was the little duck's mother in disguise to test the little duck if he would go in the forest! So, after that, the little duck never disobeyed his mother ever again. Mother duck was mad but, the little duck didn't really care because the important thing to him was he stayed safe and did not get hurt in the end.

School Sports Day

By Hayden Chan

20 November

Last Friday was my school Sports Day. It was a very hot and sunny day. The sun was flaming hot and sweat poured down from my face. The wind was weak. Our Sports Day was held in Shing Mun Valley Sports Ground. We went there by school bus with a few students and teachers. The sports ground was very spacious and gigantic but so inconvenient to reach.

After having some ham sandwiches and salad, we did some warm-up. My P.E. teacher, Mr. Chan, selected me to take part in the running and hurdle because I can jump very high and run as fast as a leopard.

I ran for my life in running as if my life depends on it and put my best effort in hurdle. Later, the results came in. Believe it or not,
I won in both races, and actually I broke the record in running!

Needless to say, I was the champion and won a really enormous golden trophy! I felt overjoyed and satisfied!

After the races, I rushed to the auditorium where all my friends were anxiously waiting for me. We chatted and took a selfie together. In late afternoon, several guys holding mics and other tools showed up at the auditorium and walked towards me. It turned out they were professional reporters from the news and were there to interview me! My face turned bright red as I shared my experiences.

Eventually, those lucky and smart winners got medals and trophies from the principal at the prize-giving ceremony. Everybody applauded loudly and cheered gleefully when the judge announced the results. They were fascinated and hyper. After the medals and trophies were given to the winners, we had a huge party. There was even a giant cake for everybody in the sports ground, the cake was delicious! We even played many video games that were installed on the tables. After the party, we all went back to school. This is such an unforgettable day!

Last Friday was my school Sports Day. The weather was very sunny with a flaming hot sun. The wind was very weak. We went to Causeway Bay Sports Ground by coach with several teachers and schoolmates. The sports ground was enormous and spacious, and it was not difficult to reach!

After having some steamed egg sandwiches and a cup of yogurt, we did some warm-up. My PE teacher, Mr. Cheung chose me to take part in high jump and relay because I am quite tall so I can jump high and run as fast as lightning.

I tried my best to jump as high as I could and I ran for my life in relay but unfortunately, I was only the second runner-up in relay and got the bronze medal. I was a bit disappointed, but I was still proud. On the bright side, I became the champion of high jump and got the gold medal.

After the races, I and my friends went back to the auditorium and joined the cheerleading team. We chanted the slogans loudly. We took many photos, too.

Eventually, those lucky winners got their trophies from our principal at award-giving ceremony. Everyone cheered and applauded loudly when the judge announced the results. We were satisfied, hyper and filled with glee. After that, we went back to school. We were exhausted but very glad. Actually, I was so nervous when I first saw the sports ground, but we went home happily finally.

Last Friday was my school Sports Day. It was a sunny day with a scorching hot sun. The wind was so weak. We went to Wan Chai Sports Ground by bus with some classmates and teachers.

It looked huge and spacious but so difficult to go.

After eating ham sandwiches for breakfast, we did some warm-up. My sports teacher, Mr. Cheung picked me to join relay and shotput because I always run faster than others and be able to do the throwing so far away! I tried my best in the races. At last, I was the first runner-up in both races and got the silver medals. I was so surprised but exhausted.

Finally, at twelve o'clock, we went back to school. I couldn't medals at home or hanging it up on my wall.

I'd never won anything in my life before, so it was a very emotional moment for me. I immediately told my friends and family, and they were very proud and supportive.

In the end, after the Sports Day, I and my friends wanted some food so my mom took us to a fancy restaurant. It was very beautiful there. We enjoyed our time there. And, they had seasalt ice-cream for dessert. I had a great time! We were all very happy. Suddenly, unexpected reporters came to interview me at the restaurant and started asking questions. They asked about the events and some other stuff. The principal was very proud of all the students that participated. Finally, we went home and relaxed in our

I made a new friend.

He is called Peter. I first met him in the classroom. He lives next to me so we play together every Monday before we go to the tutorial class and do our homework.

He is a bit overweight but kind. He looks handsome and attractive (without his stomach) with short hair. His eyesight is great so he can see well.

We always play badminton on Sundays. I always say that he is too sporty because he goes running every day.

Peter is helpful, friendly and generous. He always helps me with my homework when I have problems. He always shares his snacks with me (Wishing they are with no Covid-19 virus Omicron!) I hope our friendship won't be affected by anything.

Dear Adam,

Welcome to Hong Kong!

How's your life?

I'm so excited about your visit to Hong Kong next week! What are you planning to do? Do you fancy anything special?

At first, I'd suggest you go to Ocean Park if you love fun games and exciting rides such as roller coaster and cable car. I like there very much. You can take photos and watch the dolphin show. It is amazing! Next, you can buy some cute souvenirs there! Although you will feel exhausted, it's so joyful and I hope you can have an unforgettable day at Ocean Park.

After going to Ocean Park, I suggest you go to Times Square in Causeway Bay. There are many things you can buy, such as toys, clothes and shoes. Most of them look gorgeous. You can also have meals. You can eat many kinds of food there, too, like steak, fried rice and hamburgers. I hope you will be cheerful there.

I believe it'll be a wonderful chance for you to discover Hong Kong! I hope to see you next week!

Dear Diary,

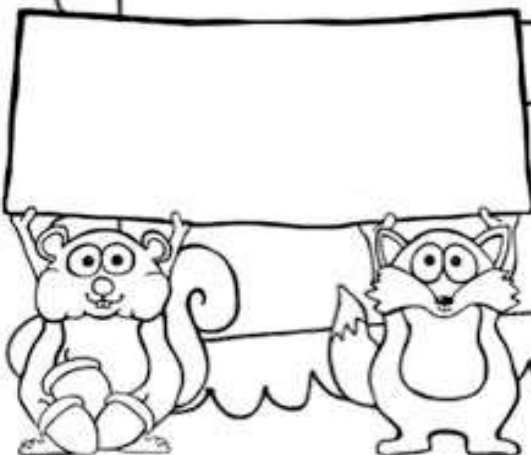

Today, I did some housework. I woke up early and cooked ten bowls of noodles for my whole family. Although I added some wrong ingredients when cooking it, they still said it was yummy. If they really thought so, I would cook for them every day! I cleared and wiped the table after breakfast. (But they just asked me not to cook again after that! XD)

Then, I went into the kitchen. I washed the dishes but they were still not clean enough. Therefore, mum came and taught me how to clean the dishes thoroughly, as shiny as a new pin. I was warm.

After lunch, dad went out to work.

As usual, his home-office was very messy.

I had to help him to put back the books to the bookshelf. His computer and desk were filled with dust, so I took a feather duster to dust them. I wonder how did dad use these? The floor was filled with paper pieces, so I stacked them up and put them on the desk. Mum should teach dad to stay clean and tidy because I can't help him all day!

After cleaning dad's 'special home-office', mum asked me to help her make dinner. "Today, we'll cook fried rice." mum said.
Mum is a five-star cook, so we were very excited about her dish.
However, when we tasted the food, we all showed a terrible face!
"Oh, I put the spicy sauce instead of salt!" I said. What a day!

Dear Diary,

Today, I did some housework. In the morning, I woke up and saw a letter written by mum and dad. They were going to a friend's home for the whole morning so they have already cooked my breakfast. I tasted the breakfast and then cleaned the table. I was very glad that I learnt to do housework by myself. After I put away the dishes, my assistant was trying to wash the dishes in the kitchen. When I told her "Let me try!", she was surprised in the first place, and then she taught me how to dry the dishes. I had a great time.

After I had my lunch, I went to my room and saw my room was messy so I decided to tidy it up. First, I put the books back to where they belong to and put all my figures back into my toy box. Then, I made my bed. I was trying to take a nap but I saw my window was dusty so I used a feather duster and a scrubbing brush to clean the window.

After I had done my homework, I felt relieved. I was just about to take a short break when I heard some noise in the kitchen.
I went there and saw my mum cooking so I decided to help her by being like a helper. I passed the ingredients to mum. Mum said, “Thanks, Ken! And pass me more carrots, please!” After we cooked the dinner, our faces became oily.

After we washed our faces, I set the table and laid the utensils and prepared the food. I had a wonderful dinner time

Dear Diary,

Today, I did some housework. In the morning, I poured some cereal in my bowl, made some cheese sandwiches and some hot toasty chocolate for my family. "Wow, all of these are very delicious and appetizing! You're an awesome cook!" said my dad after breakfast. I felt so pleased and satisfied. I cleared and wiped the table. After that, mom and I went to the kitchen and washed the dirty dishes there. Not long after, all the dishes were washed but they were still wet. Seeing mom was obviously pretty tired, I volunteered to dry the dishes for her. "Thanks!" said mum after the dishes were dried. A bright smile appeared on her face.

In the afternoon, I decided to tidy up my bedroom since it was very messy.

Firstly, I put my books back to the bookshelves. "What a huge mess! I think I need to tidy up my room more often!" I thought as I was tidying my books. Secondly, I put my models and action figures back on my desk. Some of them fell on the ground and shattered into pieces. I was heartbroken because those figures took me a lot of time to build. I decided to build them again after tidying my bedroom. Lastly, I folded my clothes and put them back to my closet. I was exhausted after the tidy-up.

I glanced at the clock, it was already six thirty! That was when I heard mom shout, "Ken, it's time for dinner! Can you help me a bit?" Although I was exhausted, I went down to help her because I just like helping others. When I arrived at the kitchen, I discovered that nearly the entire kitchen was covered in steam. I rushed over to mom and found her cooking some delicious-looking dishes. "Can you give me some more beans, please?" mom asked. Without a doubt, I ran over to one of the cabinets and grabbed a handful of green beans. I threw them to the cooking pot full of congee that mom was cooking and close the lid. "Whew! That ought to do it! Thanks for your help, Ken!" mom said. I felt very successful for my role as a helper.

Next, I set the table and put the utensils to the right place.

My parents looked at me in amazement and said that I was so helpful today. I felt very proud of myself. After dinner, I climbed on bed, took a look at the starry night and gave myself a good night's sleep.

I felt so pleased. Next, mum and I washed the dishes in the kitchen. I helped mum dry the dishes. "You're so helpful, Ken!" she said with a smile on her face.

At around noon, I found out that my room was in a hot mess, so I decided to tidy it up. I put my books on the bookshelf in order and folded the clothes and put them to the wardrobe. I was exhausted when I was done with all chores. It was such a hard work!

After a short break, I went into the kitchen and saw mum sweating while she was cooking, so I quickly helped mum and handed out the ingredients, like vegetables, onions, garlic, etc. I was like a little assistant! Although it was hot, mum was still calm when she was busy cooking. If I were her, I would have already lost my temper. I also gave her a fan to keep her cool when cooking.

Before dinner, I set the table and prepared the food. My parents were surprised and proud of me. "You did well today. Good job!" My face slightly turned red because I was overjoyed. I breathed a sigh of relief and happily ate dinner. What a tiring day!
